

Chile Biliary Longitudinal Study - Chile BiLS

Management of health events and Ethics

Management of events of health

- If ultrasound technicians find an abnormality participant are referred to study radiologist.
- Participants with gallstones, are given a written report and recommendations to consult with doctor at their health center.
- All participants are given a written report of weight, height, BMI, and blood pressure, and healthy life style recommendations flyer.
- Participants are informed that molecular and genetics assays are for will be used only for research purposes, because their clinical use is unclear yet. Will not be returned to the study participants.