

- 1. a regular visit has been planned every four years.
- 2. every year the participant receives a phone call addressing outcomes.
- 3. the outcomes are adjudicated by an expert team, after a summary of the medical records during the hospitalization.
- 4. mortality data search has been excellent for missing people. However, we need to develop two systems for deaths, one obtained directly from the relatives and another only with the mortality system.
- 5. the National Health System “high-cost procedures” databank sometimes is useful for the specific procedure as coronary revascularization, chemotherapy, dialysis, transplantation.